DON'T FORGET 'EM—There will be four questions on which voters should register their opinion at Tuesday's primary election. Located at the top of the machine, above the party designations, they call for a yes or no vote. Included are Project 70, constitutional revision, student loans, and emergency government seats. Papandreou Wins Greek Election

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Ex-Premier George Papandreou and his underdog Center Union party swept to a stunning election victory Monday over long-time Premier Constantine Karamanlis and his rightist National Radical Union (ERE). Nearly complete returns from Sunday's elections for the 300 seats in Greece's one-house Parliament put the Center Union party well out front. The Moscow-line United Democratic Left (EDA) was running a poor third. The Progressive party was in fourth place in the popular vote. In returns from 9,235 of the country's 10,162 voting districts gave this vote: Center Union, 1,710,562; National Radical Union (ERE), 1,595,758; United Democratic Left (EDA), 569,098; Progressive party, 147,836.

11 More Miners Found Alive

BROISTEDT, Germany (AP)—Surface workers made contact Sunday in the flooded Lengede iron mine with 11 men who had been given up for dead, with 29 others, a week ago. Drillers hoped to rescue them by Wednesday. A narrow supply shaft was quickly sunk 200 feet to the trapped band in the third such rescue operation since a broken dam pured millions of gallons of water from an ore-washing reservoir into the mine at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24. Ten trapped men had been pulled out previously after extensive drilling, though a drop in the water level permitted seven of these to raft to safety rather than using an escape shaft specially sunk for them.

Sahara Border Fight Continues

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—The Moroccan army said Sunday its troops had pushed back an Algerian infantry attack after all-day fighting in and around the oasis of Figuig. At nightfall, Moroccan officers at Bou Arfa, 60 miles northwest of Figuig, said several battalions of Algerian troops were thrown back into the hills by the Moroccan defenders of Figuig. According to the Moroccans, Figuig was attacked by several morning after a heavy artillery barrage. The attack again damaged the precarious cease-fire signed by the two sides at Bamako, Mali, last week. Figuig has been the scene of fighting since the cease-fire deadline of midnight Friday.

6 Die In Crash At Selinsgrove

SELINGROVE, Pa. (AP)—Six members of one family were killed Sunday in a three-vehicle collision in nearby Hummel's Wharf in central Pennsylvania. The victims were identified as the father, David Earl Oldweiler, 32, of Marietta, Pa.; his son, David Earl Jr., 14 months; and four daughters, Tina Marie, 2; Doris Ann, 3; Sheila Jane, 5; and Sharon Elaine, 6. All were pronounced dead at the scene. The accident occurred on Routes 11 and 15 two miles north of Selinsgrove.

Two Governors Ask 'Yes' Vote

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Scranton and his Democratic predecessor made final appeal Saturday for Pennsylvania voters to approve the constitutional referendum question at Tuesday's general election. The governor's statement and that of David L. Lawrence came at the same time the state's two political chairmen each were predicting party victories and the attorney general was calling for a clean election.

Harlem River Crash Kills 11

NEW YORK (AP)—Eleven persons—men, women and children of "one big family"—drowned early Sunday when the car in which they were returning from a gay christening party leaped over a dead-end barrier and plunged into the icy waters of the Harlem River. The death toll equaled the state's known record for a single traffic mishap.

Death Toll 68

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The death count in the searing Halloween explosion which ripped the state fairgrounds Coliseum reached 68 Sunday and teetered on the brink of becoming Indiana's worst disaster in history.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tuesday's general election is primarily one of local concern, but the results of the balloting in at least two instances are certain to be analyzed in terms of national and state ramifications.

The two key areas which will draw attention of the state and national politics are the mayoral race in Philadelphia and the constitutional convention referendum.

The national agents look for the Philadelphia race to give an indication of President Kennedy's standing in light of the civil rights question with the voters of the industrialized northeast.

That race pits Democratic incumbent James H. J. Tate, who seeks his first full term, against Republican James T. McDermott.

At first, the race was considered solid for the city's strong Democratic organization.

No Shoo-In
However, civil rights disputes erupted throughout the city as the campaign unfolded and now the experts say the election bares none of the Democratic shoo-in aspects that first met the eye last spring.

President Kennedy made a personal appearance on Tate's behalf last week in the city and

Gov. Scranton has made several personal pitches for McDermott. Few informed politicians on either side expect McDermott to win, but some of the Republican hierarchy privately acknowledge that a Tate majority of 50,000 or less would be a moral victory for the GOP.

Constitution
At the state level, Gov. Scranton's prestige is certain to be tied directly to the results of the constitutional convention referendum.

Scranton has refused to allow the question to become a personal one, i.e., a vote for or against Scranton.

However, his administration has taken the reins in the drive for a yes vote. His image as a political force is sure to be tarnished or polished in the analyst's eyes, depending on the results of the convention question.

The referendum proposes that a convention be called for July, 1964 to rewrite the State Constitution of 1874. The new Constitution would be presented to the voters for final approval in 1965.

State Amendments
There also are three proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot. They would: —Authorize the sale of $70 million bonds for acquisition and development of new and existing recreation areas around the state (known as Project 70). —Establish a state scholarship loan program for deserving Pennsylvania college students.

—Authorize a transfer in the seat of state government from Harrisburg in time of emergency.

Offices up for a decision are two seats on the state Superior Court—the only statewide contest on the ballot—one congressional vacancy, seven legislative vacancies and scores of city and county offices, including some 30 mayoralities other than Philadelphia.

Superior Court
The court race pits Republican incumbents J. Colvin Wright of Bedford and Harold L. Ervin of Media against Democrats J. Sydney Hoffman, a Philadelphia county judge, and Paul W. Mahady, a state Senator from Latrobe. The congressional contest is for the 23rd district seat held by the late Rep. Leon H. Gavin, a Republican.

The candidates are state House Speaker Albert W. Johnson of Smethport for the Republicans and William T. Hagerty, former Clearfield County prothonotary, for the Democrats.

The district has not voted Democratic in a congressional election during this century.

Some 5.5 million Pennsylvanians are eligible to cast a ballot Tuesday. Democrats outnumber Republicans, 2,739,416 to 2,656,403.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the 9,246 voting precincts across the Commonwealth.

Southern GOP Fight
In Mississippi, Republicans are conducting a hard-driving campaign to elect their first governor since Reconstruction days. Some GOP strategists in Washington say they wouldn't be surprised if the goal is attained—but it would be a sort of political revolution which more objective observers don't look for.

This will be a rather one-sided test of the racial question because a big issue in Mississippi —between Democrat Paul B. Johnson Jr., the present lieutenant governor, and Republican lawyer Rubel Phillips—who is tougher against the Kennedys and against integration.

Morse Attacks GOP Campaign

HARRISBURG (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Otis B. Morse took Gov. Scranton to task this past weekend on two political fronts. First, he accused the governor and his administrative assistant, William Keisling, of engaging in a 'slandering' campaign to gain a Republican victory in their home county of Lackawanna, a traditional Democratic stronghold. Later, he charged that Scranton made a political payoff to three Harrisburg lawyers, including a deputy attorney general, in return for their support of the two GOP candidates seeking re-election to the state Superior Court.

GOP Reaction
It was the latter charge that drew the most reaction, with the three lawyers denying the accusation and Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini joining in the rebuttal.

The lawyers involved were Deputy Atty. Gen. Edward Freidman, Paul H. Rhoads and Frank Simon.

Morse said the three were members of a GOP committee which hosted a luncheon here Oct. 15 for incumbent judges Harold L. Ervin and J. Colvin Wright, both running for new 10-year terms.

Later that same day, Morse declared, Scranton named the Harrisburg law firm of Rhoads, Simon & Reader as bond counsel for the State Public School Building Authority.

Bond counsel fees about $37,500 a year in fees, based on 50 cents for each $1,000 bond sold by the authority.

Pay Raise
Morse charged that during the time the committee was making preparations for the luncheon, Alessandrini was approving a double pay raise for Friedman.

Saigon Dances With Joy

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—They danced the twist and the tango — and any other dance banned under Madame Ngo Dinh Nhu's morality laws. The night clubs of Saigon joyously threw open their doors at noon Sunday and the crowds flocked in.

They celebrated the downfall of President Ngo Dinh Diem by thumping their noses at the morality laws introduced in April 1962, in Madame Nhu's crackdown on such things as beauty contests, dancing, cock fights and boxing matches.

As part of the new look, bar girls and night club hostesses doffed the white hospital-like smocks they had been required to wear under the morality laws, and donned the eye-catching slit skirt Vietnamese women traditionally wear.

There were many other evidences of the popularity, at least as of now, of the coup.

Vietnamese women and children offered food to soldiers posted throughout the city. They came singly and in groups carrying baskets filled with delicacies.

Youths and students clustered around groups of soldiers chatting and laughing. A soldier near the National Assembly dismantled and reassembled his machinegun for the benefit of an admiring knot of children.

Many of the soldiers wore little saffron ribbons in their lapels to denote they are Buddhists. The ribbons came instyle at the height of the Buddhist campaign against Diem's government, but disappeared after Diem cracked down on the Buddhist opposition movement last August.

Buddhist pagodas were thronged this weekend for the first time since Diem's troops stormed in and arrested their leaders Aug. 21. Monks, dressed in their ceremonial saffron robes, wandered freely about the city.

There was no repetition of rowdy scenes of looting and pillaging Saturday in which many pro-government homes, pro-government newspapers and pro-government bookstores were sacked.

Saigon Junta Forms Regime, Waits For U.S. Recognition

U. S. Regrets Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP)—High U.S. officials expressed regret Sunday that South Viet Nam's President Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu had met violent death while in the custody of revolutionary military forces in Saigon.

A high government source said the administration repudiates an earlier view expressed privately by an official that the brothers had reaped the harvest of their own misdeeds.

This does not represent the opinions of the top leaders of the U.S. government, the high government source said.

Both this source and the official who reported the earlier view would not permit use of their names.

U.S. sources said the United States will not and cannot be expected to accept any responsibility for the violent events that overtook the two ruling brothers in the wake of the successful military coup.

The State Department had no comment on the charge by Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu that the death of her husband and President Diem is "an indelible stigma against the United States."

U.S. officials privately deplored the bloody aftermath as most unfortunate, but they said the reaction in Saigon to the change of regime indicated the bitterness of the people and the unpopularity of the old rulers.

Hunting, Fishing Bans Lifted By State

HARRISBURG (AP)—All restrictions on hunting in Pennsylvania, in effect since Oct. 17 because of the drought, will be lifted at 7 a.m. Tuesday, Gov. Scranton announced Sunday.

Scranton said he decided to end the full hunting ban on the recommendation of Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters.

The restrictions are to be lifted, Goddard said, because a new weather front carrying some rain is expected to reach the Keystone State late Monday or Tuesday, and is expected to reduce the "extreme nature of the present forest fire danger."

Meanwhile, hunting Monday will be partially restricted under a proclamation signed by the governor Saturday night. That order permits waterfowl hunting, fishing, hunting on commercially operated shooting grounds and organized field trials. It was signed after the heavy rains on Friday.

Buddhist General Leads Rebellion

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The revolutionary junta that destroyed the Ngo Dinh Diem regime worked Sunday on the composition of a Buddhist-led government which it expects to win quick recognition from the United States.

The reins of power, however, presumably will be held by the junta itself. The chief of this military committee is Maj. Gen. Doung Van Minh, a 47-year-old Buddhist who engineered the coup.

A Buddhist who served as vice president under Diem, a Roman Catholic, is reported heading up the provisional regime as premier. He is Nguyen Ngoc Tho, 55, who had little power but a reputation as a mediator in the vice presidency.

There were reports that another Buddhist who was formerly secretary of state and defense minister, Nguyen Dinh Thuan, also would be given a post in the new cabinet.

The national radio station broadcast an order for all members of the defunct regime who may be in hiding to report to authorities and turn over their arms. Usually reliable sources said absentees included the former civic action minister, Ngo Trong Hieu.

Witnesses and unofficial photographs confirmed that junta announcement Saturday that both Diem and his once powerful younger brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, are dead.

Though the official story was that they committed suicide upon their arrest after fleeing the shell-scarred presidential palace Saturday, it appeared they probably were killed by soldiers.

It was learned the bloodied body of the former president was being kept at Saigon's St. Paul Hospital and it was believed Nhu's was there also.

It was believed Diem and Nhu evaded revolutionary forces during a truce in the palace battle by slipping out in an ambulance. Both were picked up later.

Unofficial photographs of bodies identified as those of Diem and Nhu, are dead.

Red Cosmonauts Have TV Wedding

MOSCOW (AP)—Cosmonauts Valentina Tereshkova and Andrian Nikolayev were married in a televised white wedding at the flower-decked Palace of Marriages Sunday.

Then, with Premier Khrushchev hosting a gay, government-paid reception, came hints they may be going back into orbit and that the Soviet Union is eagerly waiting for the world's first cosmic couple to have children.

As the newly-weds walked into the marble and crystal ball room, arm in arm with Mrs. Nina Khrushcheva, Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky and Chief Air Marshal Konstantin Vershinin rushed up with their wives.

Baby Doll
While 300 guests roared approval, the military leaders thrust what they called a "symbolic present" on the couple — a little girl doll with a pacifier in its mouth.

Then Vershinin toasted them in champagne wishing Valentina and Andrian "further great success on earth, in the air and in the cosmos." Many took this as a hint the pair would be going back in space—something Valentina has already said she wants to do.

Khrushchev, presiding as master of ceremonies, rang a silver bell to introduce each of the 21 toasts — progressively

Temple Congregation Hears Progress Report On Israel

EAST STROUDSBURG—Benjamin Navon, Israeli vice-consul, speaking at a gathering at Temple Israel last Thursday evening, reviewed the progress and development of the State of Israel in the 15 years of its statehood.

Navon explained how Israel had absorbed 1,000,000 immigrants in a "positive way" by retraining them, or using their skills, by providing the most modern equipment for their work, and by teaching the one common language Hebrew.

He urged American Jews to visit Israel and to send their children for periods of study in Israeli colleges as a means of helping to understand the country.

Helium was discovered in the sun in 1868, almost 30 years before its presence on earth was detected.

try and establishing an attachment for it. He urged the study of Hebrew as a common language which would provide a cultural tie.

In discussing the Soviet persecution of the Jews, Mr. Navon pointed out that the death sentence had recently been given to Jews for "economic crimes" and only prison terms to others accused of the same charges.

The speaker noted that corps of German youth have come to Israel to share the work burden, as their form of recognition of the Jewish holocaust of World War II.

Navon was introduced by Rabbi Bernhard Presler of Temple Israel. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Herman Brown, Mrs. Sidney Cohen, Mrs. Marshall Feinsilber, Mrs. Maurice Fleisher, Mrs. Norman Gelber and Mrs. Ben Silver.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do a lot more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines for it—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that combination of modest weight and potent power makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a car with lots of room for legs, hips, shoulders, hats and luggage. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension and snug insulation, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions you from bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too. Just listen to the solid thunk of a door closing or look at the smooth metalwork. You'll see what we mean.

Sound good so far? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

Democrats Laud Lesoine's Record

ECHO LAKE — The entire slate of County-wide Democratic candidates Saturday pledged full support of John R. Lesoine, Democratic candidate for re-election to the Monroe County board of commissioners.

Speaking for the group, James R. Marsh, unopposed for re-election as district attorney stated, "If John R. Lesoine is not responsible for the Democratic accomplishments of the last eight years, then who is?"

Referring to an editorial appearing in The Daily Record, Marsh said, "It was John Lesoine's foresight, knowledge of public affairs and leadership which was responsible for the progress which has been made in Monroe County during the last eight years, The Daily Record to the contrary notwithstanding."

"You can be sure that if the Democratic administration had been a poor one, the newspaper as well as the Republicans (if there is any difference) would have been the first to blame it on John Lesoine."

Pipher Speaks
Stuart F. Pipher, candidate for Commissioner, told the candidates night meeting of the Middle Smithfield Democratic Club that "John Lesoine has been one of the most progressive and dedicated commissioners in the history of Monroe County."

"If I am elected I will look to him for guidance and leadership and will draw upon his wealth of information and experience regarding the affairs of Monroe County which he has so ably administered during the past eight years," Pipher said.

Lesoine, reviewing the achievements of the Democratic administration during his term on of-rice, stated "your Democratic commissioners, during the past eight years, have worked long and hard to bring to the people of Monroe County the caliber and quality of county government which they want and deserve."

"In conjunction with the Democratic administration in Harrisburg, we rebuilt the bridges destroyed in the 1955 flood, we replaced four outmoded county bridges, we remodeled the county jail and expanded the county home, we implemented and paid for the new tax assessment law required by the Legislature, we installed a new distribution center for surplus food, and we purchased and paid for new quarters for the office of superintendent of Schools."

"In conjunction with the State Government we contributed to the new flood control project between the Boroughs of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg."

Constructive Planning
"Constructive planning and foresight made it possible for Monroe County to take early advantage of Federal Hill-Burton funds for expansion of our fine General Hospital."

"Without use of these funds—which are available to all hospitals treating patients in communities where expanded facilities are badly needed—the cost of patient care would have been

Edwin Krawitz, program calendar chairman, urged all members to advise him of possible programs. He plans to complete the calendar for the year.

'Marilyn' At Sherman

STROUDSBURG — "Marilyn" starring Marilyn Monroe and Jack Paar opened at the Sherman Theatre in Stroudsburg on Sunday. "Marilyn" is a film tribute to the blonde star and made up of the best scenes from 15 movies she made for 20th Century-Fox.

Paar will play Miss Monroe's wolfish pursuer in a sequence from "Love Nest." Other stars in the picture are June Haver, Bill Lundigan and Frank Fay. Rock Hudson does the narration for the film.

forced far higher in Monroe County.

"Because Monroe County was ready to move when Federal Accelerated Public Works program funds were voted in Congress, Monroe County's application for A.P.W. assistance was the first to arrive in Washington from any local government of comparable size."

"During this campaign we have been treated to the spectacle of one candidate for the county commission claiming, far and wide, that he is opposed to the use of federal funds. This makes good headlines, of course, because it is fashionable these days to talk against such assistance."

"But the facts are all against John Price, the GOP candidate."

"Obviously, if Mr. Price had his way, there would have been no addition to the Monroe County Home, there would have been no expansion of facilities at General Hospital of Monroe County, there would be no Keystone Shortway, no flood control project to save millions of dollars in property and dozens of human lives."

Valuable Programs
"Programs such as these are valuable to every single resident of Monroe County, man, woman or child. They are investments in our future. They are badly needed if this community expects and hopes to grow to the greatness and prosperity it can attain.

"The duty of a good county commissioner is to make use of every available project at his command to build a better Monroe County."

"His first duty is to the people he has been elected to serve. And that duty can be met only by vision and foresight, by utilizing every opportunity that is presented to modernize Monroe County and make it a better place to live in."

"That is what the Democratic county board of commissioners has done in Monroe County. That is what the Democratic candidates in this campaign are pledged to do during the next four years."

Also speaking at the rally were J. Nelson Westbrook, Democratic candidate for Register and Recorder; Frank Smith, candidate for Prothonotary; James V. Cadue, candidate for Sheriff; Joseph Vogt and Thomas Joyce, candidates for county auditors.

Thomas Bonser, club president, was in charge of the meeting. It was held at the Regina Hotel.

G-D Directors Study New School

NEWFOUNDLAND More than half of the time taken up by the October meeting of the Greene and Dreher Township School Boards at Southern Wayne Joint School this week was occupied by a discussion of the new school on Lake Wal-lenpauck — its problems and its possibilities.

The big question now is whether or not the new school will be ready for occupancy on February 1. Many other questions directly concerned the local school boards and students.

Northup reported that students planning to participate in inter-scholastic basketball games must have insurance. He noted that the school gates are being locked at night because of vandalism; five grade school windows were broken.

WHEN THE INCUMBENTS ARE INCOMPETENT... VOTE THEM OUT!

Three and a half years ago, the incumbent Commissioners, Lesoine and Rader, without any previous warning, sent word to the Children's Aid Society that they would withdraw 45 children from the care of CAS shortly.

By doing this, the Commissioners would have caused CAS to discontinue ALL services to Monroe County due to lack of sufficient funds.

Next, the Commissioners announced that they would reconsider if CAS would fire its executive secretary—a fully qualified professional man. They, (the commissioners) "just didn't like him." (Daily Record Feb. 2, 1960, page one) and disregarded 45 children whose welfare hung in the balance.

Many tense and anxious months followed due to the unwarranted action of the incumbent commissioners.

Viet Nam Rebellion

It is reported that the United States is ready to recognize the new government set up in South Viet Nam over the weekend by the military leaders who overthrew Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother.

That official recognition, accompanied by private jubilation over the end of the despotism of the Diem regime, should await a full declaration of the ideals and policies of the new government.

The strong probability that Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu were killed by rebel soldiers and did not commit suicide has cast a shadow on the rebel junta, which announced flatly that they had committed suicide.

There is a strong motive for the military junta to eliminate the ruling brothers of South Viet Nam. If they are dead, no successful opposition can rally around them. Even if they are alive outside the country, the Ngo Dinh brothers could embarrass and harass any new government by public statement and criticism.

These motives and American correspondents' reports that pictures were taken showing Diem's bullet-riddled body and Nhu's body beaten-up and stabbed strongly suggest that they did not commit suicide. Will a new government be better? It seems that almost any anti-Communist government willing to allow free elections—the heart of any democratic system—will be an improvement.

The rebel generals, who called themselves anti-Communist and pro-Western, issued this statement after their successful coup:

"The armed forces are not aiming at setting up a dictatorship because they are well aware that the best weapon to fight communism is democracy and liberty."

"The armed forces are neither aiming at establishing a disorderly democratic regime while our entire national forces must cope with a decisive war against communism, well aware that it is necessary to apply a form of democracy within discipline in a nation at war."

The second sentence leaves the door open for any kind of dictatorship denied as an objective in the first sentence.

So basic questions still remain to be answered before the United States recognize the new government, resumes some of the foreign aid cut off to put pressure in Diem, and continues its $500 million-a-year financial support.

Comment Of The Day

"I wish also to remind that any crime committed against the Ngo family cannot be hidden under the label of suicide. For I can affirm that suicide has been considered as incompatible with our religion."

"Such a cruel injustice against a faithful ally cannot go unnoticed, and those who indulge in it will have to pay for it..."

"No one can seriously believe in the disclaimer that the Americans have nothing to do with the present situation in Viet Nam."

"Because of this anything which would happen to my family would be an indelible stigma against the United States."

—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, wife of the brother of Ngo Dinh Diem, former president of South Viet Nam, speaking of the deaths of her husband and brother-in-law. The military junta which overthrew the Diem regime claimed their deaths were suicides, but American correspondents have reported that they were assassinated by rebel soldiers.

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Project 70 Opposed — 'State Owns Too Much'

Editor, The Daily Record:

I would like to write a few words in regard to Project 70. I am against this project for various reasons. I don't think the state should borrow 70 million dollars.

We don't want a $70 million debt. With our taxes too high already, how can we pay more taxes to pay off 70 million more?

Some of those guys in Harrisburg want $70 million to spend and play with. Who wouldn't as long as they were well paid to do so. I read where all the lawyers at some place were in favor of it, too. Well here is hoping the voters will vote it down next Tuesday for good.

The state owns too much of our acres already. They pay no taxes on it. I understand they give a donation of six cents an acre which is divided among the different municipalities. How much taxes do you pay per acre, Mr. Taxpayer?

I have a 95-acre patch of scrub oak land on which I paid $3.50 taxes for many years. When tax equalization came in, taxes were raised each year till this year's taxes were $75 on these 95 acres, almost a dollar an acre. This is an increase of over two thousand per cent. Do we want to raise our taxes still higher?

The state owns too much land already. Townships like Jackson, Pocono and Tunkhannock are hard hit and the people in these townships must pay the taxes which the state gets out of.

The game commission will say they buy this land so the hunter has a place to hunt. Why then do they have wire cables and locks across every road that enters into their acres?

With 10 or a dozen trespass notices at every gate and if you drive your car on their property they have a man there to fine you $25. They allow no removal of berries, nuts or anything else. They say they want this land to build parks for recreational purposes. It costs very much to maintain such parks, an additional burden. We have many parks already. Will this bring in additional home owners? Will it increase our population and tax payers? These summer visitors will be here anyway. They spend so much money regardless.

Will the state ever sell a plot to anyone to build a house or bungalow thereon? Did you ever see the state sell one foot of land once they got their hands on it? That is a big reason why those townships have less opportunity for development.

No one can buy that small lake or a stream to build a lake from the state, to start a home or bungalow project. I will vote "no" on Project 70 and urge the other voters to do likewise.

A few words about the Tocks Island Dam project. That is one just like this $70 million project. It will not do enough good for the damage it does and for the money it costs. Think of the good land it will cover with water, much of the best farm land, forests, cemeteries, schools and churches will be flooded.

We must be very careful not to jump at conclusions, but give all these things, whenever they come up, very careful thought before we vote for them.

The Pennsylvania Story

By Mason Denison
HARRISBURG — Not in contemporary times has there been the pizzaz, commotion and "vigor" evidenced on statewide issues in an "off year" election as that marking the lead-up to tomorrow's scheduled lever — pulling and ballot — marking session.

Looking back over the past several weeks, the whole affair seems somewhat amazing. Two issues have topped the floodgates of commotion, emotion and promotion: (1) the question of authorizing the calling of a constitutional convention to rewrite Pennsylvania's existing 1874 document, and (2) "Project 70" — a constitutional amendment to authorize the borrowing of up to $70 million on the part of the state to launch an unprecedented land acquisition program for state parks, reservoirs and other conservation, recreation and historical preservation projects.

But the striking aspect of these two items to be decided by Pennsylvania's voters tomorrow has been the complete organization of activity

In behalf of the two issues. In each case a state headquarters has been set up here in Harrisburg to organize, coordinate and vigorously promote the cause of the two issues.

The headquarters have been independent of each other. Each has been staffed by its own people — state workers "on leave" for the most part.

Reams and reams of material have been prepared, printed and distributed throughout the state, in the case of both causes, urging the populace to vote "for" the issues.

The salient fact seems to be at this point that if "Project 70" and constitutional revision via the convention system fail to pass tomorrow, then the issues are doomed in the future regardless of the effort (and money) expended!

Rarely if ever has there been the concentration on the statewide level to work "for" something, such as these two issues, other than in a strictly political campaign involving office-seekers.

In this instance, the "for" forces have had everything going for them — organization, materials and money. The "against" forces have been literally bereft of these attributes — and have sounded not unlike the lamb bleating in the woods (or wherever lambs bleat).

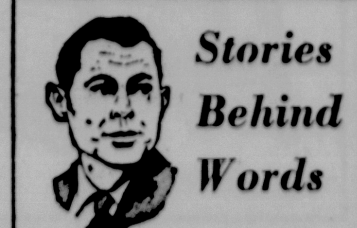

However the interesting part about this is that those in the negative on either issue have been vibrantly and forcefully vocal in their opposition efforts — but they're simply been lost in the overall blare of bugles and mountain horns on the part of the highly organized "for" forces.

For example, on the "Project 70" issue, ardent advocates of passage of the loan legislation have pointed out that in all the land buying scheduled under the program, "only nine per cent" of Pennsylvania's people face uprooting, dislocation or what-have-you.

At first blush this seems truly inconsequential; after all it's "only" nine per cent. But — what hasn't been brought out is that this "only nine per cent" of Pennsylvania's population represents about one million Pennsylvanians! That's a lot of people to horse around but unquestionably "only nine per cent" sounds much better (from the "for" standpoint) than "one million Pennsylvanians!"

The same pro and con arguments prevail on the other major ballot question destined to be answered tomorrow — that of constitutional revision. Again however the "nyet" forces have been weak, unable to get across their points to the degree of pooh-blah of their opposites, with the result that as in the case of "Project 70" the "for" forces have been by far and wide the most vocal, the most widely heard from the almost consequently, the most persuasive.

How well, will be known tomorrow.

Hot Dog

In the latter part of the 19th century German immigrants introduced into the United States a sausage which was called a frankfurter because it originated in Frankfurt, Germany.

Americans already were familiar with another German import, the dachshund, a badger hound with a long body and short legs.

The resemblance of the long, slender frankfurter to the body of the dachshund was noted and Americans started referring to the frankfurters as "dachshunds."

Later, the nickname "dachshund" was shortened to just plain "dog," and when the frankfurters were heated and put into buns, they were called "hot dogs."

The Allen-Scott Report

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

WASHINGTON — Former President Eisenhower is trying to give his Democratic successor a much-needed helping hand on the heavily embattled foreign aid bill, but so far with very conjectural results.

In one important instance, Eisenhower was turned down flat.

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., politely but firmly declined to accede to a plea that he support the $4.2 billion foreign aid authorization measure under menacing attack in the Senate.

The outlook is that it will be cut by $200 to $300 million.

The significant discussion between Dirksen and Eisenhower took place in a telephone call made by the latter from his Gettysburg home. The ex-President explained that his close friend General Lucius Clay, one-time commander in Germany, had urged him to throw his weight behind President Kennedy's strenuous efforts to avert a steep slash of the multi-billion dollar foreign aid budget.

"Clay tells me," said Eisenhower, "that unless the Senate approves the $4.2 billion authorization bill recommended by the Foreign Relations Committee, the final total will very likely be around the $3.5 billion voted by the House. He says that in turn will open the way for the ensuing appropriation bill being cut even more, possibly below $3 billion."

"That could happen," observed Dirksen noncommittally. "There is a lot of sentiment in both parties against continued large-scale foreign aid spending."

"I realize that," continued Eisenhower, "but it would be a serious mistake to cut these funds so drastically at this time. Clay says it could be disastrous, and as you know, he headed a special committee that made a thorough study of this matter."

"Yes, and he also advised reducing foreign aid expenditures," replied Dirksen. "Seems to me Clay has changed his tune."

"Not at all," contended Eisenhower. "His committee did recommend some curtailment, but not as severe as Congress seems to be headed. That's going too far. I fully agree with Clay, and hope you will, too. Anything you can do will be a big help and greatly appreciated."

"General," said Dirksen quietly but emphatically, "there will have to be some changes in the pending bill. $4.2 billion is too much. I can't go along on that."

"Think it over," urged Eisenhower. "I'll be glad to talk to you further about it."

"Always glad to talk to you, General," said Dirksen, ending the conversation.

Applying The Heat — Other Republican senators have received telephone calls from Eisenhower.

General Clay also is exerting his influence to rally support for the $4.2 billion authorization measure. He is saying it is less than he favors, but the foreign aid program "can live with that."

President Kennedy and the State Department are going all-out in a pressure drive to head off steep cuts in the bill.

The President is inviting critical and doubtful senators to the White House in personal efforts to win them over. And every top State Department official is lobbying furiously on this legislation.

Senators are describing this massive backstage pressure campaign as the biggest of the session.

"Problem Child" — Richard Goodwin, 30-year-old free-wheeling Peace Corps official, is again a member of the White House staff — after a fashion!

He is still on the State Department's payroll as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Latin American Affairs, but after several months of flitting around and repeated presidential pleas, has finally agreed to return to the White House staff to help prepare for next year's "hard and uncertain" election campaign.

Goodwin is engrossed in Latin American affairs. At the start of the Alliance for Progress, he had ambition to play a key role in it, but was shunted elsewhere, winding up in the Peace Corps. There he came up with the idea of an International Peace Corps and began scouting around the world promoting it.

Illustrative of his operations was a cable former Ambassador Martin sent from the Dominican Republic to Secretary Rusk, as follows:

"President Bosch told me last night he favors a Dominican Peace Corps; has appointed five young men as nucleus; is eager to take advantage of aid offer to train men; wants Dick Goodwin to come down and consult with him at once. He specifically asked for Goodwin by name."

But Congress clipped Goodwin's ambitious wings by refusing to vote funds for his proposed International Peace Corps.

That didn't wholly deter him from sticking an ear in Latin American affairs. Finally the President urged him to rejoin the White House staff, and after a long delay he has done so — although still on the State Department's payroll.

Dear Abby

Bluff Him, Lady!

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of six children. My husband and I are both in our forties. For some time now my husband has been getting up and leaving for work TWO hours before he is supposed to be there, and it only takes him 15 minutes to get to work.

I have asked him several times why he leaves so early, and he tells me he can't sleep! But when he gets up he rushes through his breakfast like he is going to be late for something? These actions are making me suspicious. I would like to get the truth out of him. Should I follow him?

SUSPICIOUS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: No. Just say you did.

DEAR ABBY: I am a second semester freshman in college and I am married. We have had no other than our parents. Mine are furious with me and have refused to claim me any longer or pay for the rest of my education, although they can well afford it. My husband is a sophomore and he can't afford to pay for my schooling. His parents would like to help out, but they cannot afford to send their own son to college. (He is there on a scholarship.) On top of everything, I think I am pregnant. With our limited funds we have had to move into a run - down, one-room apartment. I know there is no easy solution, but can you give me any advice at all?

DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: Are you two living together? If so, and you've "told no one" you are married, what do your friends think? If you are living apart, and your condition becomes apparent — what then? Also, if you are registered in college under separate names, you are violating the college's regulations — and will be booted out, dough or no dough. You had better start all over again — at another college. If you can't get a student aid grant, or a scholarship, or help from home, or are unable to work because of pregnancy, you had better forget about higher education for now, if not forever.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to your "CONFIDENTIAL TO MARK: Milk is not that cheap any more. You'd be ahead to buy the cow." I beg to differ with you. Milk is still your cheapest food. It has not increased more than two or three cents per quart in the past ten years. Everything else has gone up almost double. Have you ever raised a cow? A dairyman has at least $1500 invested in every cow, so I don't understand how you can recommend buying a cow. Milk is still cheap.

A DAIRYMAN IN WISCONSIN

Speaking Of Your Health:

The Common Cold

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

The common cold derives its name from its frequency rather than from its character. The havoc it causes is variously estimated as affecting the economy of the nation by hundreds of millions of dollars.

The concentrated efforts of physicians and scientists on the causes, prevention and treatment of the common cold have not yet produced any definite advance in these areas.

The common cold is caused by a filterable virus or group of viruses, some identified, others still elusive. It is a highly contagious disease that occurs in epidemic form, especially in overcrowded schools, industries and communities.

Incubation Period

The incubation period of the common cold varies between 12 hours and 72 hours. When once the symptoms of infection are established the patient becomes more vulnerable to the invasion of other germs which normally lie dormant in one's own respiratory tract. It is for this special reason that emphasis is laid on treating the common cold early, in order to keep it confined and uncomplicated.

The best way to prevent the common cold is to avoid the factors that predispose it. Sudden wetting or chilling of the body or the feet is one important factor. It is recommended that a warm bath be taken as quickly as possible after such exposure. Other contributing factors are drafts, inhalations of irritating fumes, allergies, fatigue and emotional upsets.

Spreads Rapidly

Particular care should be taken to avoid close contact with anyone who is already infected. Droplets in a sneeze will spread the common cold with great rapidity.

After children have been playing in the snow or have been exposed to chilling rain, many mothers find that a warm bath has warded off possible colds.

Treatment of the common cold consists mainly of rest in bed for at least 24 to 48 hours after the temperature has returned to normal. Antibiotics, antihistamines and antipyretics (for fever) should be used only under the specific direction of the physician.

Nasal drops in limited quantity, followed by steam inhalations, can be very comforting. A light but nutritious diet with an increase in fluids, is beneficial.

About Town

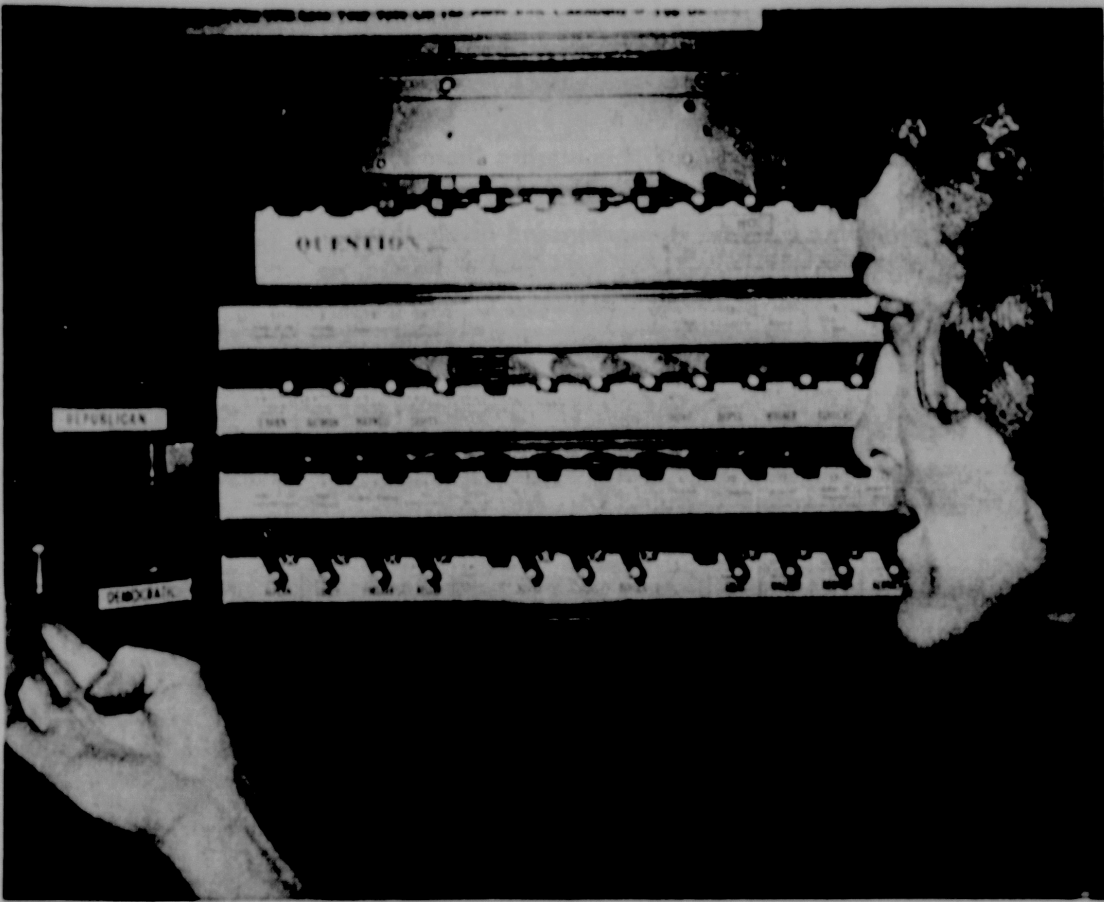

Three boys were bragging about the prowess of their dads. The first said: "My dad writes out a few short lines on a paper and calls it a poem. He sends it away and gets ten dollars."

The second boy said: "My dad makes some dots on a piece of paper, calls it a song, and gets twenty-five dollars."

"That's nothing," said the third boy. "My father writes a sermon on a piece of paper, reads it in the pulpit, and it takes four men to gather the money."

John Price Takes Issue With Lesoine's Statements

STROUDSBURG — John M. Price, Republican candidate for County Commissioner responded at a Northern Stroud Republican workers meeting Saturday to the remarks made by opposing Democrat candidate, John Lesoine on Friday evening.

"Mr. Lesoine is naturally unhappy that I was endorsed for election by the Daily Record and he wasn't. I don't blame him. However, I am sorry that he is provoked to the extent of apparently attempting to confuse the public," Price said.

Price continued, "In order to clear the air, I would like to point out that Stanley Rader and John Price are the Republican candidates for County Commissioner. Harold Kresge is not."

"He, as Acting County Chairman of the Republican Party, has the same capacity as W. C.

G. Peterson in the Democrat Party. Both men conduct their party's campaign efforts. Candidates establish their own individual platform or plans. My platform is my own and mine alone. I presume Mr. Lesoine has his own individual platform too."

"Secondly, Mr. Lesoine is remiss in not reading my position on federal funds more closely. I stated in the Oct. 30 issue of the Daily Record that 'I don't believe in taking federal money just for the sake of getting dollars because this money is all coming out of the taxpayer's pocket anyway.'"

"Mr. Lesoine can't disagree with this and I'm sure he doesn't. Every dollar we save the taxpayer, whether it be on a local or federal level, is helpful to our tax burdened public. Every tax dollar spent by public officials must be carefully evaluated on the basis of the need and the extent of the work to be done.

"I'm certain Mr. Lesoine can't mean that basis of operating our county finances is wrong! I would suggest that Mr. Lesoine perhaps read my advertisement which again clearly states my plans on what I feel to be key issues and I would encourage him to state his platform as clearly.

Price concluded, "Mr. Lesoine's comments prove the point that a candidate can't please everybody. I probably won't get John Lesoine's vote but on Tuesday the voters of Monroe County will tell us whether or not my plans meet their approval."

The Northern Stroud Township's Republican workers meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Helen Schlough.

Democrats Issue 12-Point Platform Of Candidates

ECHO LAKE — Mrs. Grace Palmer, Monroe County Democratic Vice-Chairman, issued a 12-point program Saturday night which she termed "a Democratic platform for Monroe County which will keep Monroe County on the road to progress to which our Democratic candidates, and especially John R. Lesoine and Stuart Pipher, stand firmly committed."

Mrs. Palmer's statement is as follows: "The Democratic Party of Monroe County pledges to the voters of Monroe County as follows:

"1. Not to increase county taxes even though your Democratic commissioners will match $296,000.00 of federal funds with an equal amount of county funds to make needed improvements to the County Home.

"2. To continue co-operation with the state and federal governments to obtain grants in order to insure to the people of Monroe County that we receive our fair share in return for our federal tax dollars.

"3. To place upon the spring primary ballot in 1964 the question of county-wide planning and to conduct and aid a series of seminars and open meetings to educate and acquaint the people of Monroe County with the facts of county-wide planning.

"4. To go forward with a series of upstream dams on the Brodheads and Pocono streams.

"5. To continue to distribute liquid fuels moneys on the basis of population and mileage.

and to continue to keep it non-political.

"6. To continue steady and constant maintenance of county-owned buildings.

"7. To continue support of tourist and industrial promotional agencies and other civic agencies which benefit Monroe County.

Other Points

"8. To continue financial support of the Monroe County Fire School and cooperate with all local fire companies in their effort to provide high quality property protection.

"9. To continue financial support of the Monroe County Soil Conservation program so that we may protect and preserve our great natural resources.

"10. To continue surplus food distribution to those eligible to receive it under federal law and to do so without favoritism to partisanship.

"11. To continue maintenance and operation of the County Veteran's Bureau for the benefit of widows and disabled veterans.

"12. To continue good, sound economical government in Monroe County while at the same time providing the kind of modern, humane services our people need or desire."

Mrs. Palmer stated "this forward-looking program was delivered to James H. Ottaway Jr., editor of The Daily Record, on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, 1963.

Peterson Urges All To Vote

STROUDSBURG — W. C. G. Peterson, Monroe County Democratic Chairman, urged the voters of Monroe County to "exercise their most basic right of liberty — the right to vote."

Speaking at a meeting of the Middle Smithfield Democratic Club Saturday evening, Peterson stated, "It is the duty of every registered voter, regardless of Party affiliation, to go to the polls on Tuesday and vote in one of the most important local elections in recent years. The offices that are involved in Tuesday's election affect all of us, every day, in our day to day lives."

"The only way we can guarantee good, honest County Government," he continued, "is by casting our ballot on Tuesday. The Democratic Party of Monroe County pledges a continuation of the forward looking programs which have made Monroe County a better place in which to live and work the past eight years. But we will be able to accomplish this program only if the voters of Monroe County exercise their most basic right of liberty — the right to vote."

"I urge the people of Monroe County to demonstrate that they will not be mislead and confused by the editorial writings of one man in the Daily Record, whose short acquaintance with Monroe County and its people renders him unqualified to pass judgment on the issues of personalities involved in this campaign, or by the desperate mudslinging and smears of the Republican party which is so devoid of a positive program for Monroe County that it must stoop to these shameful tactics."

Sumberg Urges Yes Vote On Constitution Issue

MARSHALLS CREEK — Dr. Alfred D. Sumberg, professor of social studies at East Stroudsburg State College, speaking at a meeting of the Middle Smithfield Democratic Club on Saturday evening, said "I believe that on Tuesday the voters of Monroe County will join with most of their fellow Pennsylvanians in voting yes on the referendum for a constitutional convention."

Dr. Sumberg said that he was not disturbed by the few people in Monroe County who had voiced their opposition to the referendum.

"It is surely apparent to everyone," he said, "that the statements of those opposed to the referendum have been filled with inconsistencies. It is difficult for the opposition to justify its illogical statements in the light of the experiences of those, including Governor Seranton and former Governors Fine, Leader, and Lawrence, who have been closely associated with the state government under the obsolete Constitution of 1874."

"These men, as well as legislators and judges, know that Pennsylvania will not make the necessary economic or social progress as long as the severe restrictions in the present constitution remain. As a result, they, as well as former President Eisenhower, have endorsed the calling of a constitutional convention."

"I support the calling of a constitutional convention," Dr. Sumberg said, "because it is the most realistic way to write a constitution that will give Pennsylvania the type of government needed for the 20th Century."

"Our forefathers evidently felt the same way because in 1776, 1790, 1838, and 1873 they also called conventions to revise the frame of government then in operation. But the present situation requires our looking closely at the cost of government."

"Dr. David Kurtzman, Senior Research Associate with the Fels Institute of Local and State Government at the University of Pennsylvania, has estimated that the extra cost of borrowing money through the General State Authority, the State Highway and Bridge Authority, and the local authorities in $41,000 per $1 million borrowed."

"As of September 1, 1963, the General State Authority had authorized $1,092,734,600 worth of bonds. As of June 30, 1963, the State Highway and Bridge Authority had $64,385,000 worth of bonds outstanding while as of December 31, 1962, county and municipal authorities had $1,740,250,000 of outstanding debt."

"At the cost of $41,000 per $1 million of authority debt the excessive cost according to Dr. Kurtzman, is approximately $87 million. It seems incredible that we permit such waste of badly needed money simply because the Constitution of 1874 prohibits the state from having a debt of more than $1 million and the counties and municipalities from having a debt greater than 7 per cent of the assessed value of property."

"I hope that the voters of Monroe County will vote yes for a constitutional convention," Dr. Sumberg concluded.

"We can do it but we need the type of state government that will permit us to do it. I am confident that the constitutional convention will retain the best features of the present constitution and offer to the people those new sections which are vitally needed," he concluded.

Sen. Scott Addresses GOP Rally

EAST STROUDSBURG — State Senator William Z. Scott told an enthusiastic audience at the "Hootenanny" Friday night that the Republican team of county candidates was exceptionally well-qualified and deserved the backing of all Monroe County voters.

The leader of the State Republican caucus, Senator Scott, concluded his brief but inspired talk by urging the gathering to work in harmony toward victory on Tuesday.

Entertainment for the "Hootenanny", which was held at the American Legion Home, East Stroudsburg, included Sally Ferrebee with her daughter, Sally, and son, John, who rendered a number of songs including an unforgettable "Moon River"; three East Stroudsburg State College students, "The Chessmen", who gave many fine folk-songs; Bucky Jones, a character performer, and two mysterious ladies known only as the "Hootenanny Grannies."

Sen. William Z. Scott

Donald Brink, Jr., candidate for school director in Smithfield Township, was master of ceremonies.

NEW YORK (AP)—An insurance actuary here says the man of average instincts is more likely to buy life insurance on a rainy, dreary day than when skies are blue. Since a study of insurance records shows that the ratio of sales to calls mounts on foul-weather days, says John S. Local Candidates Gird For Tomorrow's Election

STROUDSBURG — About 19,000 Monroe County voters are eligible to go to the polls tomorrow to vote in a municipal election.

Major interest centers on the county commissioner race in which Democrats seek to maintain their control.

The election is drawing more than usual interest because of four state-wide questions on the ballot — constitutional convention, Project 70, student loan program and emergency government seats. The outcome is uncertain for all of the ballot questions.

The Republicans are working to elect their register and recorder.

Both parties seek to place a majority on the boards of commissioners and county auditors, and to elect candidates for sheriff and prothonotary and clerk of courts.

The office of district attorney goes to the Democrats by default. There was no GOP candidate in the primary election, and James R. Marsh, the incumbent Democrat, won the nomination of both parties.

In addition to Marsh, the four incumbents seeking re-election are John R. Lesoiné, a Democrat from Tannersville, and chairman of the board of commissioners; Stanley B. Rader, a Republican from Effort; Mrs. Jeannette F. Batory, Republican of Stroudsburg RD 1, and Mrs. Mary E. T. Garcia, a Stroudsburg Republican and a five-term county auditor.

Lesoiné, owner and operator of a moving and storage firm and a sand and gravel company, is seeking a third term. Rader has had one term as the minority member of the board of commissioners.

Other Candidates
Other candidates in the battle for three commissioner posts are Republican John M. Price, a Stroud Twp. businessman, and Democrat Stuart F. Piper of Tannersville, manager of a Stroudsburg electrical supply company and president of the Central Labor Union of Monroe and Pike Counties.

Mrs. Batory, in the race for register and recorder, is battling Democrat J. Nelson Westbrook, a funeral director in Stroudsburg and a former county treasurer.

Jacob F. Altomose, a Democrat and sheriff in the county the last 12 years, is not seeking re-election. Candidates for the office are James V. Cadue, a Democrat from Tobyhanna and present chairman of the board of county auditors, and Republican Edward F. Metzger of Tannersville, fire chief of Poccono Twp. Fire Co. since it was instituted in 1940.

The candidates for prothonotary are seeking elected public office for the first time. They are Frank J. Smith, a Democrat from East Stroudsburg RD 2 who is now self-employed and did serve as superintendent of highways in the county, and Mrs. Ruth D. Slutter of Henryville RD 1, a Republican who operates an accounting business in the county and is also employed by the State Bureau of Sales and Used Tax in Stroudsburg.

In addition to Mrs. Garcia, a housewife, the other candidates for county auditor are Democrat Joseph J. Vogt of Cresco, an insurance man who is finishing an appointed term on the board; Democrat Thomas R. Joyce of Stroudsburg, a partner in a masonry firm, and V. R. Fitzgerald, a Stroudsburg Republican.

Monroe County voters will also elect borough councilmen, township supervisors, school directors and other municipal officers.

School Directors
In the Stroudsburg area there will be three school directors at large elected to serve the Stroud Union School District. They are Republicans John P. Lim, Stroudsburg, and Raymond A. Roberts Jr. and Fred J. Titus, both of Stroud Township, and Democrats Willard S. Kintz Jr. and Lorraine Viglione, both of Stroudsburg, and Ralph Paul, Stroud Township. Candidates for Stroud Union director from Hamilton Twp. are Republican Raymond Price Jr. and Democrat George E. Metzger.

Municipal contests of interest in the four boroughs are:

STROUDSBURG — Claude Scheirer, Republican, and Bertha Taffinger, Democrat, for borough auditor; Robert L. Weichel, Republican incumbent, and Democrat Leslie D. Keller, for Second Ward Councilman; Floyd Bachman, Republican, and Lloyd E. Bentzoni, Democrat, for Fifth Ward Constable. Joseph W. Kovarik, borough council president, received both nominations for re-election as Fourth Ward Councilman.

EAST STROUDSBURG — Ernest R. Farmer and Russell Serfas, Republicans, and Stephen M. Balcik and Samuel Kupiszewski, Democrats, for two school board posts; incumbent Republican Charles Buzenli and Democrat Jay B. Peters for Second Ward Councilman; Republican John W. Bensley and Democrat Elwood E. LeBar for Second Ward Constable; Ann M. Travis, incumbent Republican, and Robert R. Staples, Democrat, for Fourth Ward Councilman. Pearly D. Hunt won both nominations for re-election as Fifth Ward Councilman.

Contests In Gap

Delaware Water Gap voters will elect three borough councilmen, two justices of the peace, a borough auditor and a constable.

In the councilman race are Fred S. Shoemaker, Clifford B. Hauser and Stephen R. Matos, Republicans, and John J. Jones, Philip E. Farber Jr. and De-Vice L. Kelper, Democrats.

Other candidates are: Justice of the Peace, Fred Decker, who was nominated by both parties; Jean M. Davis, Republican, and Anna Lundergan, Democrat. Borough auditor, Jean F. Wilson, Republican, and Pauline Carrescia, Democrat. Constable, Robert E. Smith, Republican, and Richard Jennings, Democrat.

Mount Pocono Races

Four borough councilmen, two school directors and a borough auditor are to be elected in Mount Pocono.

The candidates for council are Republicans Morton Kresge, Harold O. Bates and Floss Megargle and Democrats Angelo Battisto, Isaac DeHaven, Monta Strong and Patrick Horgan.

The school board posts are being sought by Republicans Wesley K. Meixell and Dorothy A. Hartman and Democrats Bernard A. Pallo and Alexander F. Karolyi. Republican Marilyn A. Besecker and Democrat Katherine Callahan are opponents in the race for borough auditor.

A total of 19,191 voters are registered to vote in the election. Of these, 11,190 are Democrats, and 7,750 are Republicans. There are 149 nonpartisans, 101 Independents and one Prohibitionist.

Pike Election Has Contests For Two Courthouse Offices

MILFORD — Interest in Pike County in tomorrow's general election will be centered in the contests for county commissioner and treasurer.

The only statewide office on the ballot is Superior Court Judge, with two to be elected. The judgeship battle finds the Republican incumbents, J. Calvin Wright and Harold L. Ervin, opposed by Democrats J. Sydney Hoffman, a county court judge in Philadelphia, and Paul W. Mahady, state senator from Westmoreland County. The present membership of the Superior Court has four Republicans and two Democrats.

Locally, the commissioners' contest in Pike County finds the three incumbents — Republicans Warner M. Depuy, of Milford, and George Coultas, of Poughkeepsie, and Democrat Jay Schroeder, of Matamoras — on the ballot as candidates for re-election. The fourth man in the field is Democrat Donald LaBar, of Westfall Twp.

The Republicans have an 1832 edge over the Democrats in registration. In the commissioners' contest, Depuy and Schroeder are strong oldtimers in office, while Coultas is serving in his second term. LaBar, a comparative newcomer to political action, has been waging an intensive campaign, and the election battle for three out of the four candidates promises to be an interesting one.

The office of treasurer may give an interesting battle despite the Republican registration edge. The two candidates — Republican Arthur Tucker, of Shohola Twp., and Democrat August Clouse, of Lackawaxen, are both newcomers to the county level political scene.

Edward S. Parsons, of Greene Twp., has received the endorsement of both parties for reelection to the office of prothonotary. Also endorsed by both parties are Robert J. Kayton, of Milford, for district attorney, and Victor E. Orben, of Milford, for county surveyor. H. James Crellin, Democratic nominee for county coroner, is unopposed on the ballot.

In Milford Borough four candidates will be scrambling for three spots on the Borough Council. Incumbent William C. Geiger III has received the nomination on both Republican and Democratic tickets as has Clyde Rowe. Randle Earnest, a former councilman and Norman Helms, who was a "write in" candidate on the Democratic ticket at the Spring Primary, are the other nominees.

Is America selling out?

America WILL... if it doesn't develop enough future leaders now. They are needed to hold our position in science, in business and jobs, in living standards.

Where do we get leaders? Higher education trains most of them. But colleges are facing higher costs. Many need classrooms, laboratories and competent teachers.

To hold our lead we must back our colleges. Either we help them meet costs or we sell out.

Three Injured In Crash At Shafer's School House

STROUDSBURG — Three persons are in fair condition in the General Hospital of Monroe County following an accident early yesterday at Rt. 209 and Shafer's school house.

Injured were Mrs. Lorraine Granacher, 37, of 143 Sweet Fern Dr., Stroudsburg; her daughter, Sylvia, 17, of the same address; and Elsworth Shultz, 54, of Gilbert.

Mrs. Granacher is being treated for a brain concussion, laceration of the skull, and a possible neck injury.

Miss Granacher is being treated for a brain concussion, broken right collarbone, two broken ribs, lacerations of the left hand and face, and bruises to her body.

Shultz received six broken ribs, two broken teeth, fractured left ankle and lacerations of the face.

State Police said the accident occurred yesterday at 7:50 a.m. at the intersection of new Rt. 209 and the township road, going south from Shafer's school house.

According to police Mrs. Granacher was traveling south on the township road and crossed the highway. In so doing she entered the path of the east-bound Shultz car.

Shultz struck the right front of the Granacher vehicle causing it to go sideways and then crashing into the guard rails.

Shultz's car also continued a short distance and then rolled over on the shoulder of the highway.

The investigation will continue today, police said.

Interborough Bus Service Continues

STROUDSBURG — Interborough bus service will continue. Paul Hull, manager of Delaware Valley Transportation Co., announced last night the bus service between the Stroudsburgs and some outlying points would be continued by his company.

He stated that the company had signed a contract with East Stroudsburg State College to transport 40 students to and from Delaware Water Gap every day.

He added, "This will fit into the schedule very well."

The Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg-Water Gap run is as follows:

A bus will leave the Ninth St. garage at 6:15 a.m. and 1 p.m. It will travel to Pocono Park, Arlington Heights, Ninth St. to Main St., to Clearview, King St., Milford crossing, Erie-Lackawanna depot, college, hospital and the Ronson plant at Delaware Water Gap. The bus will arrive at Ronson at 6:50 a.m.

Hull said the operation is now completely backed by his company and that he is not receiving any aid from businessmen in Stroudsburg or East Stroudsburg. He added that there will be no service on Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

Hull also announced that his company will put into operation today at 6:17 a.m. a new bus traveling from Bangor to East-

It is a 29-passenger bus and is replacing a 12-passenger bus that is more than 25 years old.

Art Exhibit Now Open At College

EAST STROUDSBURG — The East Stroudsburg State College art gallery is exhibiting the work of artist Evi Fisk. The gallery is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturdays.

Miss Fisk is a native of Finland and attended the Helsinki Academy of Fine Arts. She then came to this country and began an extensive career in art.

She worked first as a fashion designer, while at the same time she continued her fine art studies at the Art Students League, Brooklyn Museum School, Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and Philadelphia Museum School.

Her paintings are hanging in many national and regional exhibitions in New York, Pennsylvania and other sections of the country.

Miss Fisk lives at the Masters Institute in New York City. The building also houses the Riverside Museum. The institute is concerned with the cultural arts including ballet, painting classes, experimental plays, concerts, lectures and art exhibitions.

One Hurt In Route 80 Accident

STROUDSBURG — Leo L. Canova, 22, of 201 Belmont Ave., Mt. Pocono was slightly injured Saturday in a one-car accident on Rt. 80 one mile south of Tannersville.

Trooper Alfred Dorzdowski of the Stroudsburg substation, investigator of the accident, said Canova was thrown from his car and suffered cuts of the forearm. The car continued on a short distance, rolled over at least twice and was demolished.

Canova was taken to the General Hospital of Monroe County for treatment and then released.

The accident occurred at 2:25 a.m. on Saturday.

The investigation will continue today.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Presbyterians Issue Call To Rev. J. Williams Giles

STROUDSBURG — The congregation of the Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg voted Sunday to issue a call for a new minister to replace the Rev. John Bollier who left the church recently to serve in California.

Arlington Williams, chairman of the pulpit committee, said a call has been issued to the Rev. J. Williams Giles. Mr. Giles is expected to start his duties at the local church Sunday, Dec. 8.

The call has to be approved by the Lehigh Presbytery before Mr. Giles can formally start his new pastorate. The Presbytery will meet at Lafayette College in Easton Nov. 26.

Mr. Giles is a native of Darby, Pa., and is a graduate of Princeton Seminary in Princeton, N.J. In 1962 he received his master degree in religious education.

Firemen Called, But Not Needed

EAST STROUDSBURG — Acme Hose Co. of East Stroudsburg was called yesterday to 115 King St., East Stroudsburg, but its services were not required.

The alarm sounded at 12:15 p.m. when the oil burner in the Frank Rice home failed to ignite and flooded the furnace with oil. The furnace did ignite and as a safety precaution Rice placed the call.

Fire Chief Herman Meinhardt said there was no damage and that service from the company was not required.

The largest eye found among land animals belongs to the ostrich. Keen vision and the ability to run 40 miles an hour protect this bird from its enemies.

Cars Crash At Fern Ridge

FERN RIDGE—State Police at the Fern Ridge substation investigated a two-car accident Saturday at 4:25 p.m. on Rt. 209.

Total damage was estimated at $700 and police reported no injuries.

The drivers were identified as Howard J. Brodbeck, 50, of 143 Rock St., Pittston, and Melanie Rose Fenner, whose age was withheld by the State Police, of Brodheadsville.

State Police said Mrs. Fenner entered Rt. 209 from a private driveway and struck the rear of the Brodbeck vehicle.

"I Don't Believe in Empty Promises!"

Here are my PLANS on Key Issues — Not Promises —

TAXES

Assessments must be fair and uniform without bias. Full-time, efficient county government will lower the tax load. Taxes must be adjusted to the changes in the county.

SERVICE

County Commissioners are paid $4,200 per year. At this salary, a man owes the county his full time. The voice of the voter must be heard. The Commissioners must listen to "the man on the street."

EXPERIENCE

A man cannot serve as a Commissioner fairly if he isn't a property owner and experienced businessman and interested in improving the economic situation for ALL residents. The future of this county is tremendous. The County Commissioners must work full time to prepare for the future.

LOCAL RULES

Fewer and fewer decisions are being made by our county officials. State and National "matching funds" are taking local control out of the picture. We in Monroe County are capable of deciding and moving ahead on the basis of what's best for us.

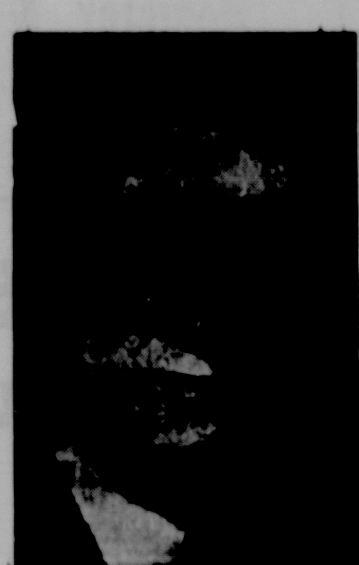

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

The prevailing voice in county decisions must be that of "the man on the street." The Commissioners' Office must reflect THAT voice and not the voice of political "backs" and out of county interests. A Commissioner must "ask the people."

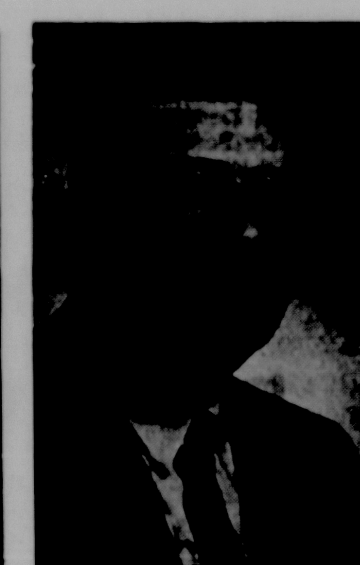

ASK YOUR NEIGHBORS . . . THEY ARE SURE TO AGREE!

Our, or Perhaps Your ,LAST CHANCE!

Today is our last chance to decide whether we want a County free from Federal or State domination, or a County run by people from Monroe County . . . for Monroe County.

Today is our last chance to consider whether we want our County Government to proudly announce they reduced mileage by one mill, while raising our assessments to the point we pay three times or more County taxes than we did under the Republican Administration in 1955.

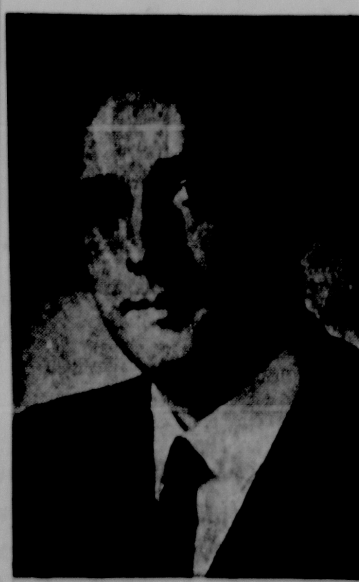

Today is our last chance to THINK whether we will vote our own independent beliefs. Vote for the best man or woman for the job and let the chips fall where they may.

If you THINK . . . and we are sure YOU WILL . . . you will.

Miss Sharon Ace Married To Robert Lohman Nov. 2

Mrs. Robert James Lohman (Lens Art Photo)

Bangor — Mackey Memorial Baptist Church was the setting on Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Sharon Ace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ace, of RD 1, Pen Argyl, and Robert James Lohman, son of Mrs. Helen Lohman, of RD 3, Bangor. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Branton C. Dodge.

Given in marriage by her brother, Ervin Ace Jr., the bride was attired in a gown of silk taffeta and embroidered Alencon lace, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline. The felted bodice had long sleeves, and her bell-shaped skirt was trimmed with scalloped lace and finished with a chapel train. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held with a rhinestone tiara. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and roses.

Miss Janet Lane, the maid of honor, wore a blue silk taffeta gown and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow fufgi.

Joseph Handejong, of RD 3, Bangor, was best man, and ushers were Russell Stoflet, brother of the bride, of RD 1, Pen Argyl, and Larry Lohman, brother of the bridegroom, of RD 3, Bangor. Mrs. Lisle Brown was organist, and Donald Shook soloist.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Weona Park Youth Center, Pen Argyl. The bride is a graduate of Pen Argyl High School, and attended the Empire Beauty School. She is employed at the Aurora Caposola Sports Co.

Mr. Lohman attended Bangor High School and is employed at Scott's Fashions, Pen Argyl. Following the reception, the couple left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Bangor School Seniors Plan Annual Class Play

Bangor — Members of the Class of 1964 of the Bangor Area Joint Senior High School are presently preparing for the annual presentation of the annual class play to be given in the high school auditorium on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23 at 8 o'clock. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Donald B. Keat, head of the department of English and will feature a three-act comedy farce, "Happy Daze."

How To Beat Job Loss, Job Worry

By Roberta Fleming Roesch How can you beat unemployment if you're a worker who's out of a job or worried about your present job?

At best it's a job to get a job when unemployment is high, so obviously, in a nation that's increasingly concerned about growing unemployment this question can't be answered with a simple and pat "Here's How."

But it is a question with an answer if you're willing to meet unemployment head on, and prepare yourself to beat it if-and-when it happens to you.

Recognize Causes To beat it, however, you first must all need to recognize that unemployment is primarily existing its current and potential shadow on:

(a) People who are unskilled or unspecialized (b) People who are paradoxically so overspecialized that they can do only one job, possibly a job that no longer exists (c) Those who are fighting a losing battle with automation (d) People who are unable to meet the competition of a labor market that is larger than the jobs our economy creates.

Leave The Groups

Once you recognize where and why unemployment happens most, the next step is to get yourself out of the groups it hits, no matter how difficult or impossible it seems now.

Do this by getting yourself a skill if you're unskilled. Or, if you're overspecialized, get on another track and learn to do something else. Similarly, get new training at almost any expense if automation has automated you right out of a job.

Offer More While you're planning this, make a serious study of the job ads in all the newspapers in your area and tabulate the types of jobs that seem to be most needed.

If possible, learn to do two of them, so you'll have more to offer, and learn to do the jobs you're seeking better than your competition.

Finally, resolve to job-hunt thoroughly and effectively for whatever job you want.

This means that when you job-hunt you'll look like an up-and-coming potential job holder instead of a down-and-out unemployed person.

You'll also present yourself for a job to employment offices and employers instead of skirting the edges of job-hunting by settling for second-hand information from anybody you happen to see. Many people who need a job will often take the easy "skirt the edges" way.

Wrong Approach Just today, for instance, when we were getting in our car to leave a suburban plant, a person who had lost his job in another plant stopped us and asked casually whether there were jobs inside!

And only last week while we waited for an appointment in a broadcasting studio, a shaken young woman, out of a job, came in and asked us for minutes on end how she could get "just any job" — instead of following our constant advice to apply at the personnel office!

urday, Nov. 22 and 23 at 8 o'clock. The play is under the direction of Mrs. Donald B. Keat, head of the department of English and will feature a three-act comedy farce, "Happy Daze."

The cast of characters will include: Walter Emery as Mr. Maxwell, head of the family household or at least he thinks so; Oran Handejong as Mrs. Maxwell, as she thinks head of the household; William Spangenberg, as Wilbur Maxwell, son of real action prone youth; Jane Fritzsche as Connie Maxwell one of the two daughters 17 years of age; Maureen Ricco, as Betty Lou Maxwell the other daughter at 15 years; Cecelia DelBacco as Bernadine Smith, Betty Lou's best 15 year old friend.

Also Michael Ronco as Hercules Nelson, Wilbur's 13 year old boom pal; Cynthia Nagy as Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Maxwell's mother some 50 years of age; Joanne Communalie as Aunt Mary; Mrs. Maxwell's 50 year old aunt; Larry Jennings as Mr. Mallory, Mr. Maxwell's 55-year-old boss and Larry Locke as Elmer and Bill Dillipantonio as Muggsy, two of the none-to-bright would-be kidnapers who come in search of ransom money.

Marilyn Butz is acting as the student director for the play under the supervision of Mrs. Rockwell and Joan Lombert is in charge of the printed play booklet for the two evenings.

Armon M. Williams, senior class advisor is serving as the business manager of the play.

The following committees are also active for the annual show: Make-up, Nancy Harris, chairman, Bonnie Ott, Patsy Kiefer, Darlene West, Judy Fields and Nancy Sandt; properties, Joyce Knecht, chairman, Edith Zeigafuse, Marlene Hill, John Barium, John Heard, David Blau and Jane Maso; tickets, Gail Carnes, chairman, Annette DeCesare, Ruth Ann LaBar, Margaret Stoll, and Patricia Orse and publicity; Annette Bozzuto, chairman, Ruth Steinmetz, Cynthia Lohman and Suzanne Snyder.

The class has placed 1000 tickets on sale, with all members of the class serving as salesmen. Jay Young, head of the department of industrial arts is preparing the set in co-operation with senior boys in that department. Electrical installations are being supervised by Paul Eyer of the joint district maintenance staff.

Fellowship Discusses True Love

Newfoundland — The "Meaning of Love" was the theme of the meeting of the Greentown-Newfoundland - South Sterling Youth Fellowship at the South Sterling Church.

Led by the Rev. Larry Lindemuth, the group discounted emotionalism, possessiveness, charity, physical attraction, hero worship, pity and friendship as being confused with "love," and concluded that love is "patience, kindness, generosity, humility, courtesy, unselfishness, good - temper, pureness, and innocence, sincerity, honesty, enduring and eternal."

In a written quiz, the eighteen members present gave eighteen different definitions of love.

During the business session at which Terry Baughan presided, the Harvest Festival of the Pocono sub-district was announced for Nov. 10 at Lake Ariel.

The group will collect Tuesday beginning at 7 p.m. and meet at the Newfoundland Moravian Church, instead of going out as usual on Sunday night.

The Youth Fellowship decided to participate as a youth choir in the Union Service of Thanksgiving at the Newfoundland Moravian Church, at which the Rev. Denton Covert, Methodist minister, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Robert Krieger will rehearse the choir after the regular meetings on Sunday nights.

Coming Out Party Gets Police Guard

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Fernanda Wanamaker Weatherill will have her second coming out party in Philadelphia Dec. 28. But this time police will be on hand to guard against any after dinner shenanigans.

The first debut, during the late summer in Long Island, N.Y., ended in the wrecking of a rented 30-room mansion and the indictment of 14 young men and women for causing damage estimated at more than $3,200.

Miss Weatherill is the great-granddaughter of the late John Wanamaker, Philadelphia and New York department store founder.

Her mother, Mrs. Donald S. Leas Jr., said her plans to introduce 17-year-old Fernanda to Philadelphia society with a gala ball were canceled because of the Long Island hijinks.

The small dinner party will be attended by possibly 125, she said, "but only people we know personally." She also said:

"With a little bit of luck they won't tear down the hotel" (the luxurious Bellevue-Stratford in downtown Philadelphia).

"We'll have so many security police it's not even funny. I mean police, not just detectives. City police, because I know that after all the publicity there'll be a lot of boys who want to crash."

The 14 were indicted by a Suffolk County, N.Y., grand jury Friday on charges of malicious mischief.

Several of those accused will be guests at the Dec. 28 party. Two of them, said Mrs. Leas, were innocent of any wrongdoing.

She identified them as Mimi Russell, 17, daughter of Edwin F. Russell, publisher of Vogue magazine and the Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot-News, and Samuel Shipley 3rd of Philadelphia.

Catty Blanks S-burg, 25-0

STROUDSBURG — Fumbles, fumbles and more fumbles. Stroud Union visited Cata-sauqua over the weekend play-ing the rare role of the favor-ite. What happened on the Rough Riders' gridiron could easily change SU's football nick-name from the Mountaineers to the fumblebeaters.

The heavily favored Mounties lost the pigskin on nine different occasions and lost the ball-game, 25-0. Cata-sauqua turned three Stroudsburg fumbles into touchdowns and capped its second straight after losing four in a row.

To further complicate its at-tack the Mountaineers failed to complete any passes and rushed for only 64 yards and two first downs. This was compared to Catty's total yardage output of 271 and 13 first downs.

Four Scorers

Tim O'Donnell, Jim Reed, Bill Lapsansky and Tom Brzozowski scored for the Rough Riders.

Despite its intrepid perfor-mance Stroud Union held Cata-sauqua to a 6-0 half time lead.

Bruce Kutz recovered a SU fumble on the Cata-sauqua 41-yard line and the Rough Riders were enroute to their first score. O'Donnell capped the drive by racing off tackle for the final seven yards.

The alert Rough Riders took the second half kickoff and drove 77 yards for their second score. Reed swept end from the 13 to score standing up. The drive was kept in motion by a brilliant 31-yard scamper by Rick Tamer.

Off And Running

Glenn Kleppinger claimed an- other SU fumble near midfield mid-way through the third pe-riod and the Catty's were off and running again. Lapsansky was the bright star of this effort. He was on the receiving end of a tricky double reverse that caught the napping Mounties completely off guard.

He maneuvered the 30 yards to payoff land with nary a Mounty laying a hand on him. This plus Cata-sauqua's only extra point pushed the score at the end of the third to 19-0.

Stroudsburg wasn't finished fumbling, however. They quickly relinquished the ball on the pounced on the pigskin on SU's ensuing kickoff. Brzozowski 22. Sparked by a 12-yard pass from Reed to Ron Crayoshi, Catty drove for its final TD of the day. The honors fell to Brzozowski and he plucked the final yard to up the count to 25-0.

Bitter Pill

The loss was a bitter pill for the Stroudsburgers to take. It was a Lehigh Valley League game and one of the few times this year that they were fa-vored to win. The loss brought SU's record to 1-6.

The Mountaineers completely fell apart in the game after playing close tough ball games with Pen Argyl, Bangor and Whitehall. They never came close to scoring.

Next week they go against Slatington. The Slaters are the only team that East Strouds-burg has been able to beat so far this season.

E-burg Blue Devils Bow To Valley Stream, 13-0

EAST STROUDSBURG — The nationally-ranked Valley Stream (L. I.) Green Hornets had the fight of their lives Sat-urday at Memorial Stadium bow-ing down the East Strouds-burg Blue Devils, 13-0.

The triumph for the visitors was the third in a row over the Eastburg squad which this year won the championship of the Pocono-Slate Belt Junior Foot-ball Conference.

The entire first half — and most of the third period — was fought in Green Hornet ter-ritory.

Valley Stream's first touch-down was set up by a bad bounce of a Blue Devil punt which gave the visitors pos-session on their own 49. That was the last play of the third quarter.

After driving for a first down on the Eastburg 38, Gerry Desmond burst off tackle, spun off a Blue Devil linebacker who had appeared to have him, then sped down the north sideline for the TD. Nick Sofarelli ran the same tackle hole for the extra point and the Hornets led, 7-0.

E-burg Fumble

The second TD was set up by a Blue Devil fumble which was aided and abetted by a 15-yard penalty against East Strouds-burg, giving the Hornets pos-session on the Blue Devil 17. Jack Basile swept left end from there to reach paydirt with 2:01 remaining.

In the final two minutes, Dave Darr and Dave Patella com-bined to carry the ball down to the Valley Stream 34 as time ran out. That march was the only sustained drive staged by the Blue Devils.

East Stroudsburg dominated the first half due to the recov-ery of four Green Hornet fumbles and some fine passing by Patella with Paul Miller, Al-lon Lessig and Dave Darr his favorite targets.

Move To Five

An aerial from John Shinn to Lessig gave the Devils a first down on the Hornet five, but on fourth down the hard-charge Hornet line tossed Steve Nauman for a loss to stymie the biggest threat of the evening for the losers.

In the final analysis, it was the fired-up play of the Valley Stream defensive line which proved the difference. It com-pletely thwarted the Blue Devil running offensive which has been the way the Blue Devils had won their games this season.

Football's Funny Bounces Features College Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That football certainly is tak-ing funny bounces this 1963 col-lege season.

Coaches Bob O'Dell at Buck-nell, George Makris at Temple and Kenn Bunn at Lafayette ought to be ready to testify to same.

O'Dell's Bucknell Bison up-set unbeaten Temple, which trampled Lafayette, which up-set Bucknell. Maybe what col-lege football players need is a good psychologist, not a coach.

Bucknell, with quarterback Don Rodgers scoring one touch-down and passing 22-yards for another, dumped Temple out of the unbeaten but tied category, 14-3, this past Saturday.

And when once tied Thiel bowed to Wayne State, 6-0, that wiped out the last undefeated team in the state.

Lafayette Bows

Incidentally, Lafayette, which last week turned in that big up-set over Bucknell, bowed to Gettysburg, which earlier in the season lost to Bucknell. Two bad passes from center helped beat Lafayette, 14-12. Gettys-burg scored a two-point conver-sion on a busted placement try, and later scored after taking possession at the Lafayette 6 on a poor center snap.

There were other zany do-ings:

Penn. capitalized on five Har-vard fumbles and three pass in-terceptions to beat the previous-ly undefeated, twice tied Crim-son, 7-2. Pitt trailed 21-8 at half-time, but rallied to topple Syra-cuse 35-27 as quarterback Fred Mazurek ran for two touch-downs and passed for another.

Geiberger, former University of Southern California star, studied his putt for several min-utes, then stroked the ball squarely into the middle of the cup.

He jumped up and down in a little victory celebration and figuratively pushed the ball deeper into the hole while pocketing a check for $3,500.

Quarterback Pete Liske re-covered a fumble and promptly threw a 66-yard scoring pass to halfback Gary Klingensmith in the final quarter to give Penn State a 17-13 win over Mary-land.

Villanova Wins

Villanova needed a 99-yard touchdown kickoff return by halfback Bob Dunn to subdue Holy Cross 22-14.

Winless Lehigh, in the throes of one of its worst seasons in memory, lost its sixth in a row, a 20-6 job to Colgate as a sub-stitute halfback scored twice. Then, there was Millersville's neat trick of scoring three touchdowns in one minute, 33 seconds of the second period in a 38-0 win over Cheyney.

In the state's individual scor-ing derby, leader Dave Wion scored twice, each time from the one to up his total to 74 points, as his Allegheny team toppled Bethany 27-19. Not to be outdone, runnerup Wayne Ful-ler-ton also scored a pair — he now has 72 — going over on a 4-yard pass and from the 2. In Wayneburg's 24-14 triumph over Muskingum.

In the state college confer-ence, the leaders — Slippery Rock in the West and West Chester in the East — scored vic-tories. Slippery Rock, with Stan Truskowski tossing for two touchdowns and running for a third, outscored Lock Haven 32-20. West Chester routed Mans-field 55-0 with a ground game that ate up 424 yards.

Field Day

Susquehanna had another field day, running up a 68-0 whitewashing of Alfred. Its sixth straight victory, and 28th in its last 29 games. Quarter-back Don Green carried 10 times for 100 yards, scored twice and collected four conver-sion points. He also passed for a touchdown.

Jan Beliveau and Toby Bark-man each scored two touch-downs as East Stroudsburg de-feated Cortland for its fifth con-secutive victory after losing its first two. Indiana edged Califor-nia 7-0 on a 23-yard TD pass from Bill Leonard to Jim Ash-ton in the first period.

Mr. John Lesoine:

Many words do not make facts.

These are the facts.

In 1955 the County expenditures, un-der Republican County Commissioners were $285,000.00. The 1963 budget is $820,000.00, a difference of $535,000.-00. In words that affect the taxpay-er, you are spending the $285,000.00 spent in 1955 PLUS an additional $535,-000.00, nearly twice as much.

What additional benefits are you de-livering to the taxpayers of Monroe County to justify this additional ex-pense?

Packers, Giants, Bears, Browns Score Victories

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay's defending National Football League champions rolled to their seventh straight victory Sunday, crushing Pittsburgh 33-14 on the jarring runs of Jim Taylor and the unerring kicking of Jerry Kramer.

Taylor, carrying 30 times as the key to the Packers ground game, gained 141 yards and scored one touchdown while Kramer supplied 15 points with three conversions and four field goals—23, 36, 12 and 37 yards. The Packers have not lost since an opening game defeat by Chicago, 10-3.

The victory left the Packers and Bears tied for the top spot in the West, following Chicago's 17-7 triumph at Baltimore. The Steelers, who have never won a divisional crown, were all but eliminated from the Eastern race with a 4-3-1 record.

Cleveland boosted its Eastern Conference leading record to 7-1, bouncing back from last week's first loss by defeating Philadelphia 23-17 as Jimmy Brown shredded the Eagles' defense for 223 yards in 28 carries, scored on a 62-yard run and set up three field goals by Lou Groza.

The Browns remained one game in front of the New York Giants, who rode Y. A. Tittle's four touchdowns passes to a 38-21 walloping of St. Louis. The Giants are 6-2. The Cardinals dropped to third place at 5-3.

Other Games
In other games, Don Meredith passed for four touchdowns in Dallas' 35-20 victory over Washington, Earl Morrill connected for four as Detroit clobbered San Francisco 45-7 and Minnesota defeated Los Angeles 21-13 on two late thrusts capped by Fran Tarkenton TD tosses.

Buffalo closed to within one-half game of the Eastern Division lead in the American League by edging Denver 30-28. The Bills are 4-4-1 to 5-4 for Boston and Houston. In the only other Sunday game, Oakland edged Kansas City 10-7.

Western Division leader San Diego whipped New York 53-7 Saturday night and Boston crushed Houston 45-3 Friday night.

Gary Ballman ran the opening kickoff back 93 yards for the Steelers, Don Hoak smashed two yards and Pittsburgh led 7-0 after 11 seconds. It was all Green Bay after that. Kramer kicked three of his field goals for a 9-7 halftime lead, then Taylor plunged a yard in the third quarter to put it out of reach.

Billy Wade hit Joe Marconi on a 63-yard pass play, then plunged a yard for the Bears' first score before lobbing a 16-yard pass to Rick Casares in the third quarter for the clincher. The deciding touchdown came after Joe Fortunato intercepted a pass by the Colts' Johnny Unitas.

62-Yard Run
Brown was so effective in smashing the Eagles' line that quarterback Frank Ryan threw only nine passes. Brown scored his only touchdown in the first quarter on a 62-yard gallop, then spent the rest of the day setting up field goals by Groza, who kicked 9, 22 and 34 yards for his three-pointers.

Tittle blitzed the Cardinals defense for 17 completions in 28 attempts and 295 yards. His four TD passes were one more than the St. Louis defense had allowed all season. Tittle fired 28 and one yard TD passes to Aaron Thomas, a 41-yarder to Frank Gifford and a 40-yarder to Del Shoffner.

Two interceptions and a fumble recovery led to three touchdowns for the Cowboys. Quarterback Don Meredith fired four TD passes past the Redskins defenders, a pair of one-yarders to Lee Folkins and 13 and 12 yards to Frank Clarke.

Morrill connected with Terry Barr for three of his touchdown strikes on plays covering 10, 21 and 6 yards. His other TD toss was a 10-yarder to Tommy Watkins, who also scored on a five-yard run against the 49ers.

Trailing 10-7 in the third quarter, the Vikings whipped the Rams as Tarkenton fired a 10-yard touchdown pass to Jerry Reichow and hit Paul Flatley with a 27-yard scoring flip.

Tops In East
Navy strengthened its position as the No. 1 team in the East with its one-sided triumph over Notre Dame, which saw Staubach set a new Academy individual offense record for the season with 1,420 yards.

Pittsburgh, led by Fred Mazurek, won its sixth game in alternate sunshine, snow and flashing lightning with a 35-27 triumph over Syracuse. Penn State downed Maryland 17-15 and Boston College thumped Vanderbilt in an intersectional fray 19-6.

The other team must come from the Big Ten scramble among Illinois, Ohio State and Michigan State, all with identical 3-0-1 records in the league, and probably will not be decided until the Illinois-Michigan State game Nov. 23.

Top-ranked Texas, which literally booted Southern Methodist into submission 17-13 for its seventh triumph of the season, has the inside track to the Cotton Bowl at Dallas but must first beat Baylor and the formidable Don Trull at Austin next Saturday in the Southwest's big decider.

If Texas goes into the Cotton Bowl, its opponent quite possibly could be once-beaten Navy with the highly-publicized Roger Staubach. The Middles, who crushed Notre Dame 35-14, are reported eager for a shot at the Longhorns' No. 1 ranking, particularly if they can again get by Army, which ground out a 14-10 verdict over the Air Force at Chicago on two smashing runs by Ken Waldrop.

The Daily Investor

'Cash Flow' Defined

By William A. Doyle

Q. I read that a certain stock is expected to have "earnings this year of between $5.50 and $5.85 a share," and that "cash flow will be between $11.50 and $12 a share." Just what is meant by "cash flow?"

A. Try this for a handy definition of cash flow: "All the money that flows in and that does not necessarily have to flow out again."

You might think of cash flow as "keeping money" — the money that a company can hang onto.

A more staid definition would be "reported net income, plus all bookkeeping items that do not involve actual outlays of money."

Yes, this does require a bit of a detailed explanation. So, keep reading.

All companies are in business to sell things — either goods or services. The total amount of money that comes in to any company is that company's "gross income."

No company gets to keep all of its gross. From that total amount, there must be deducted the cost of materials, salaries, many other items and (of course) taxes. After all those things are subtracted from the company's net income, it then can report its "net income" — the profit the company earned for the period covered by its report.

To keep this relatively simple, we'll assume that the company has only common stock outstanding — owned by investors.

Divide the company's net income by the number of shares of common stock outstanding and the resulting figure is the earnings per share.

The per share earnings figure for any period (such as three months, six months, nine months or a year) provide vital information. This lets stockholders know whether earnings are up or down.

Earnings per share are just about the most important thing to watch on any stock. But let's go back to some of those deductions that were made out of the company's gross, in order to arrive at the net earnings figure.

Some of those deductions (for such things as depreciation, depletion, amortization, extraordinary charges to reserves and special tax credits) were only bookkeeping deductions. Such deductions did not involve actual outlays of money.

The company is able to keep that money — until it has some use for it. Add all those bookkeeping deductions to the company's reported net earnings and you have the company's cash flow.

Divide the company's cash flow by the number of shares of common stock outstanding and you have the cash flow per share.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Australia and New Zealand will replace their pounds and shillings with dollars and cents in 1966.
